

2010 is our year!

IWPA celebrates its 125th anniversary by hosting the National Federation of Press Women Communications Conference in Chicago August 26-28, 2010, at the Union League Club of Chicago

Put these dates on your calendar now and start working with us to make this the most memorable NFPW Conference ever!

Here's why you should participate

- Contribute your time and expertise as part of the planning team
- Network with media professionals from all over the U.S.
- Spend three days of pre-tours around Chicago on August 23-25. See sites you've always wanted to visit and meet subjects for interviews.
- Learn from professional development workshops and speakers focusing on the educational theme of "Reinvention, Innovation" in three tracks: writing, public relations and technology. Gain the skills and knowledge you need to meet the challenges of today's marketplace.
- Gain contacts and content for our articles, columns and blogs
- Enjoy the elegant ambience of the Union League Club of Chicago, and dine surrounded by fine art in banquet halls with food prepared by an award winning chef.
- Get on the bus for the three day post tour on historic Rt. 66 from Chicago to Springfield.
- Contacts: Co-Chairs Cecilia Green (cecgreen1@comcast.net; 630-632-3053) and Suzanne Hanney (suzannestreetwise@yahoo.com; 312-829-2426); Volunteer Coordinator: Angie Leszczak (angie@angieleszczak.com; 708.672.9865)

IWPA iwpa@comcast.net 312-458-9151 www.iwpa.org

NFPW presswomen@aol.com 800-780-2715 www.nfpw.org